

De La Salle Medallion for Excellence in Interfaith Cooperation

The De La Salle Medallion for Excellence in Interfaith Cooperation honors a student who has demonstrated outstanding leadership and joined with others on campus and in the surrounding community in the work of interfaith dialogue and cooperation.

An honoree will be a student who:

- Fosters appreciative knowledge of various religious worldviews through educational or awareness-raising events and forums
- Establishes meaningful relationships among varied faith practitioners and those without religious affiliation
- Promotes actions toward the common good in conjunction with people of other spiritual perspectives

Nominee's Name:

Nominee's Email:

Please explain why you have chosen to nominate this student.

How does the student demonstrate the above criteria? Give specific examples.

For how long has the student been involved in interfaith cooperation efforts?

How has Lewis benefitted from this student's work through leadership and networking?

Nominator Name:

Nominator Title and Department: